Can Robinson Escape Conviction?

The Woman's Night Gown and Pocket-book Were Buried-- A Bloody Overcoat.

HEARD SCREAMS!

A Lady Heard a Woman's Scream on the Night of the Murder-- Robinson Taken Out of Town.

The murder of Sunday night is still the absorbing topic of conversation. There are few cases of the kind that offer so many puzzling details when the standard of intelligence possessed by the suspected party is considered. The results of the coroner's inquest when made public may solve the question, but at present Dick Robinson has shown himself to be above the average negro in evading questions that prove beyond a doubt that he is the man.

The general opinion, however, is that Robinson is the murderer. The stories of his whereabouts on Sunday night are too conflicting for him to escape.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a discovery was made that forced the negro to the wall. Will Oliver, a stable boy at Mayor Stevens' barn, was cleaning up the stable, as is his daily task about that time. Oliver is a rather superstitious negro, and of course had his head full of the horrible details of the murder. After sweeping out he tried to close the door that leads from the main stable to a shed on the south side where the manure was thrown, and was unable to do so on account of a large pile of manure that had collected. Getting a pitchfork, he commenced to throw the manure aside, when at almost the first forkful he unearthed an old sweep broom. Beneath this he saw something white which upon examination proved to be a woman's white night gown. With it was an empty black purse which contained two apartments. It is such a one as is usually carried in the pocket. The things were secreted in a corner formed by a stall and the side of the barn immediately to the left of the door sill. Oliver was much frightened and immediately notified Mayor Stevens who gave the articles to Chief of Police De Long. The gown had several stains upon it, but none that would indicate blood.

The further search was afterwards made which bore big results. In the stable room where Robinson slept, is an old bed which was used by him and under which he throws his dirty linen, etc. Upon turning back the mattress a light overcoat was found. The coat was bundled up and had rested immediately under the negro's head. It was quickly examined and evidence obtained of great importance. On one of the sleeves there were several small stains which all pronounced blood. Farther down and on the side of the coat was another spot which had been made by the same coloring matter. On the underside of the coat tail was found a quantity of peculiar grass seeds.

An officer took this latter clue and went to the scene of the murder. He secured several heads of the grass that grew abundantly on the spot and brought them down town. A comparison was made and the seeds said to be identical in shape and size.

Spirited Away.

The discovery was kept quiet, but the officers finally began to fear that the story would leak out. Preparations were accordingly made to take Robinson out of the city. There was no doubt in the minds of those concerned that a mob would attempt to batter down the jail and get the prisoner if this last discovery, which, of course, would be distorted in repetition, should become known.

As passenger train No. 4 passed the Lamine Street crossing, Special Officer Frank Barnett stood on the steps of the smoker and as the train passed at a rapid rate, caught Robinson by the arm and the negro was swung aboard. Sheriff Smith then followed.

It was rumored at the time that the prisoner would be taken to the penitentiary at Jefferson City. This was a mistake. The negro was badly frightened.

The officers took the negro to California, Mo., and lodged him in jail at that place.

The Twisted Stories.

Robinson's story of having attended a church meeting on the north side of the railroad on the night of the murder, was disproved by the fact of his having taken a buggy ride. He stated that his companion on the night of the ride was Francis Williams. The woman denied this in his presence and proved by witnesses that she was at home that night. Robinson repeated the assertion and said that she was intimidated into telling a falsehood by the fact that her lover would give her a terrible beating if he found that she had been riding with another man.

It can be reasonably supposed that Miss Schollman had taken the gown with her for the purpose of remaining all night at Mr. Hannefelt's, as her clothes had been packed up after quitting work at Mayor Stevens'. Robinson returned to the stable after a package and took it from the buggy. He was afterwards questioned about it and said that the paper contained leaf tobacco which he had purchased at Gottschalk's store on Main street Sunday night. He gave Mayor Stevens the keys of his trunk in which he said the tobacco had been placed. The trunk was opened and the tobacco found. This looked as if the negro had been telling the truth.

But note the following: He claimed to have bought the tobacco from Mr. Gottschalk. This gentleman claims that he was not at the store during the evening and therefore could not have sold it.

"Won't Give Him Away."

Robinson was told of the finding of the nightgown and asked for an explanation. After thinking awhile, he acknowledged having buried the garment and pocket book, saying he had found them on a little table in the room where he slept. He claimed to have done it to shield "another fellow whom he won't give away."

On the night of the murder, and shortly before Robinson called for the buggy, he met a young man named Emil Myers, who is employed by Mayor Stevens. Myers was riding a horse and Robinson got up behind him, and, after riding down town, got off at Field's feed stable where he got the buggy. Myers described the coat worn by the negro and the description tallied with the one found. Robinson claimed to have worn a brown overcoat with a fur collar and that Myers had on the light coat. The brown coat was found at the stable hanging behind the door and is said to be the property of Tom Swebster. The fact of the light colored coat having been hidden and also stained with what looks like blood, offers convincing evidence that Robinson has lied most vigorously in this particular.

Heard a Woman Screaming.

A DEMOCRAT reporter interviewed a lady this morning who gave a most startling story. The lady is Mrs. Winter, living at Twentieth Street and Missouri avenue. On last Sunday night about 8 o'clock, after her husband and children were in bed, she had occasion to step into the yard, preparatory to closing the house for the night. Suddenly there was a piercing, agonizing scream of a woman in the darkness, but in what direction she was unable to tell. It ceased suddenly and Mrs. Winter, badly frightened, ran into the house. Her husband, being asleep, she said nothing about the matter until morning when she was startled to learn that a woman had been murdered in the immediate vicinity.

The statement lends a plausibility to Robinson's having the woman out buggy riding, even though he returned about 9 o'clock.

Coroner Muhl has also stated that the generally accepted opinion that the woman was killed at an early hour in the morning, is not entirely tenable. She may have been dangerously stunned and wounded at 8 o'clock, but lived for several hours before dying.

The ownership of the knife has been one of the hard questions. To-day, however, the mystery was partially unraveled. Henry Miller stated to a DEMOCRAT reporter that he felt sure the knife belonged to the negro. He had often seen Robinson with a knife of the same size and peculiar handle, and was of the opinion that the negro had owned the knife for a long time.

The knife positively identified. A negro buggy-washer employed at Collins & Farnham's has stated to a reliable gentleman that he positively identifies the knife as belonging to Dick Robinson.

A negro woman living on the north side, and where Robinson frequently went, also states that she has often seen Robinson with the knife.

The coroner's jury was still in session this morning and adjourned at noon until 4 o'clock this afternoon. The session was secret.

POLICE COURT.

A Large Crowd of the Talent Up Before Judge Rauch.

Toughs and thieves are finding Sedalia a rather hot place just at present, and the way the chief of police and other officers are on the alert, it forebodes evil for the law-breaker.

This morning, some of the people who are in the habit of following fair before the judge to answer to the charge of vagrancy. They were, Dan Rosenfeld, Jacob Goldberg, Geo. Rider, Wm. Rose and Fred Haskins were found guilty and fined $25 each. The first two are wanted in Chicago on some charge which will be developed later.

A. R. Chatman was released because there was not sufficient evidence to convict him of vagrancy.

Frank Burke, who was sent up from Booneville for grand larceny, arrived in the city yesterday, having completed his sentence, and was slated for late hours under suspicious circumstances. He was granted a stay to leave the city in thirty minutes.

W. C. Allison, E. Freeman and A. H. Wyan were each fined $10 and given a stay to leave the city at once.

Henry Shelby, charged with late hours, was fined $10. W. Johnson and Ray Williams, two wicked-looking coons, got $10 each for late hours.

John Shokie and Andy Kuklensky, charged with carrying concealed weapons, were fined $50 each.

Chas. Hardin, disturbing the peace, was found guilty and given a $7 fee.

Jack Prince Defeats Four Horses.

Jack Prince, the whilom cyclist, who is now operating in Kansas City, is doing great work down there and is knocking out everything that comes in his line. On Sunday he went a twenty mile race on his wheel against four horses and knocked them out with ease. Prince had an easy time of it and could have easily won with double the distance to his credit that he had. Each of the horses went against him for four miles when a fresh horse would be rung in. The time of the four sets of four miles each was 18:57, 37:51, 54:41 and 1:13.24 for the total.

DODGE-BLAKEMORE.
A Brilliant Marriage Taken Place at the Episcopal Church.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Miss Leo Flemming Blakemore and Mr. J. Boone Dodge were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the Episcopal church.

The friends of these happy young people have long expected the event and it was a moment of sincerest pleasure to see them wedded for life.

Miss Blakemore is a charming young lady. Her refinement of mind and heart gives an unconscious modesty to her manners that makes her presence a pleasure to all who know her. She is sensible and intelligent and just such a woman as would make any man happy.

Mr. Dodge is travelling representative for the St. Louis Republic and possesses business qualifications that command the favor and respect of his employers. His present position is one of importance and responsibility and the numerous increases of salary are a guarantee that he is the "right man in the right place." He has a large circle of friends throughout the states.

Rev. Alexander Allen performed the ceremony according to the beautiful service of the Episcopal church.

The bridal party entered the the entire crowd was of the same opinion for they were soon found gathered at the opera house bar partaking of the celebrated Faust beer and enjoying the well known hospitality of the genial proprietor, Chas. H. Raiffereisen.

BEAUTY AND SELF-IGNORANCE.

The Good of One and the Degradation of the Other.

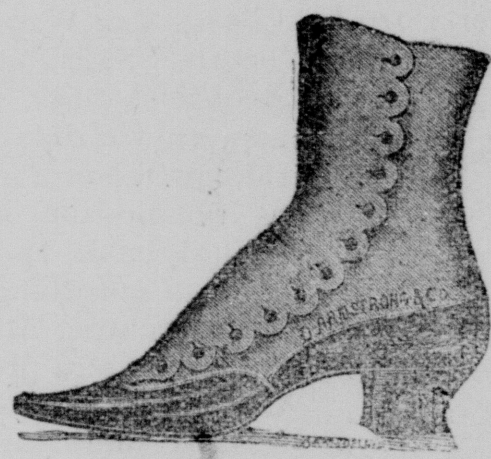

Theodore Parker.
As the world of art comes out of man's love of material beauty, so the world of science comes from man's delight in the ideal intellectual beauty of related things and then the world of art and science, how much they do to elevate man from the gross material condition into which this savage child was born. It is for this purpose that God sows the world with dew drops in May and June and spangles heaven all over with stars that burn forever in their immortal beauty.

The use of things causes man first to fear and drives him. Then beauty charms his eye to love, delight and trust. As fathers and mothers please their children with picture books and teach the A B C on blocks of yellow wood, to fix the baby eye, and as these children find wisdom whilst only looking for delight, so the dear Father leads all His human family upward and on, church and marched to the altar with Miss Hattie Marvin presiding at the organ.

The ushers were Messrs. Joe Donnohoe, Arthur Ferguson, Martin Ingram and Charles West.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Eugene Blakemore, of St. Louis.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Blakemore, immediately after the ceremony. The afternoon train for the west carried Mr. and Mrs. Dodge on a bridal trip to Denver, Col., where they will remain about ten days. On their return they will commence house-keeping at their elegant home, No. 645 East Thirteenth street.

The presents were many and of great value, many of them being sent by friends at a distance.

To the newly married couple the DEMOCRAT extends its best wishes and hopes that all the joy of married life will ever be with them.

Among the guests from a distance Mr. and Mrs. J. Dodge, are father and mother of the groom, of Appleton City; Mrs. Dr. Marsh and Mrs. Mary Talbot, of Tipton; Miss Josie Shepherd, of Warrensburg; Mrs. E. S. Cronk, of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blakemore, of Clinton, and Mr. Eugene Blakemore, of St. Louis.

McKinley's Speech.

About 2000 people heard Governor McKinley speak at the Union Depot and when he had finished they dispersed and it seemed that delighting us with the shapes of an apple, the color of a rose or the mystery of a star, or the romance of the new moon, till we learn art and science both and we learn the commandments while we are looking at the pictures in this great primer of the Lord.

It often happens that men are not very well acquainted with the best things in them, they see them so seldom. We live with our human beings as the Mexicans lived in California, not knowing the unsummed gold which slept unseen, waiting to be brought to light.

A young fellow whom I knew once did a brave thing, which brought in its train a deal of self-denial. He did not mean to do it; it did itself, and he was astonished. "How came I to do such a thing?" he quoth to himself when he got home and sat down alone with his God and the darkness. And so he looked to see whence came that roth flower, unexpectedly springing up in its fragrant beauty, and he found there was a whole bank of just such violets, which he had known before, enough to sweeten all the winds of heaven.

It is so with us all. So old stories tell that Grecian Narcissus went about with rude swains in Attica, and thought himself but one of them, ill-mannered and boisterous, and not treating well the swine which he fed, till one day, by accident, he saw in the water a face as beautiful as Aphrodite and Phoebe Apollo, both united, and was astonished to

AT THE RACES.

The Track Furnished Good Sport--Martha Wilkes Goes To-day.

The racing yesterday was good and the horses contested hotly for the honors. At about 1 o'clock Nancy Hanks was given a warming up and of course was the center of attraction. The wonderful mare will try to lower her record of 2:04 to-morrow afternoon.

In the 2:29 class trot, three best in five to harness, Miss Edith, belonging to J. M. Nickell, of Hannibal, won in three straight heats. Time--2:20 3/4, 2:19, 2:21 3/4.

The 3:00 class trot, three best in five to harness was a lively one and it took six heats to finish it. Tesson, jr., finally took the money, coming first in the second, fifth and sixth heats. Time--2:34 3/4, 2:29 3/4, 2:36, 2:29, 2:26 3/4.

Martha Wilkes will attempt to break her record of 2:08 this afternoon, as will Belle Acton, the yearling, who has gone a mile in 2:21 3/4.

WILL DALTON.

A Brother of the Defunct Desperadoes.

HE HAS TOO MUCH TO SAY.

He Threatens Coffeyville Citizens With a Suit—A Slick Hand at Cards—His Bold Acts May End Sorrowfully.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 26.—A new feature in the Dalton affair is promised, and a most unique one it is. Will Dalton is contemplating suing the city for damages, alleging as a cause of action that while the bodies of the dead bandits were in charge of the city unauthorized persons were allowed to rifle the pockets and abstract money and valuables, which have not been turned over to William or the family.

Will was interviewed in regard to the matter and acknowledged that there was a strong probability of such an action being begun, claiming, however, that one of the ablest attorneys in the state was backing and instigating the suit on a contingent fee.

Who this attorney is he refuses to state, but it is thought by the citizens that Luther Perkins, the money lender, is really at the back of the affair, although the description does not fit him, as he is not allowed to practice law, although he is an attorney.

Will said that he knows one of the citizens robbed the bodies of the $900 which Emmet claims they had before coming into Coffeyville. This is in all probability the sheerest nonsense, as no one else seems to know anything about it. The chances are that it is only a bluff game, played in order to force those who took the articles from the bandits' pockets and are keeping them as relics to return them.

William is not very popular here as it is, and such a move as this and statements like he made yesterday morning when he said: "The boys were wrong in trying to rob the banks, but were right when they shot the men who were trying to kill them," are calculated to make him less so.

Emmet is still improving and will undoubtedly recover. His cell is brightened by bouquets of beautiful flowers sent him by foolish women and he is having what many people think an easy time when it is considered that three widows and one poor old mother mourn their husbands and son by reason of the Dalton raid. William declares that there will be no danger of Emmet's conviction and that there will be plenty of money for his defense is certain.

Will's actions and words and his bank account are all interesting straws to watch when considering the question of his being a silent partner in the late firm of "Dalton Brothers, bandits and outlaws," whose business cards should have borne the inscription: "Train and bank robbing a specialty."

Will is a pretty smooth individual with cards, and it is said by knowing ones that Sunday night was a time which will be remembered by Independence sports on account of William walking away with $500 of their cash which they had wagered in a poker game.

In speaking of Ben, the elder brother, Will says: "He is too chicken-hearted and easy. Why he was scared half to death when he was here and kept begging me to keep still, but they can't bluff me, I say what I please." The statement of Ben being frightened is hard to believe, for in addition to his impressing one with a belief in his coolness and grit his actions here were quiet and gentlemanly and he was well treated by every one. All the citizens believe in his honesty and credit him with being a good citizen, so there was no reason for his being frightened even if he were inclined to be a coward. After the conversation with the reporter Will entered the hotel office and stated that he came "very near shooting a newspaper man just now and the next one that braced him would be shot."

TAMMANY RATIFIES.

Senator Hill Proclaims His Loyalty to Ex-President Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Hill mass meeting at Tammany hall last evening was the first great political demonstration of the campaign in this city. The hall was packed from door to dome. On the platform were some of New York's most distinguished democrats, including Gov. Flower, ex-Secretary Whitney, Chairman Harrity, Gen. Dan. Sickles, Congressman Amos Cummings and a host of others. Everyone wanted to see and hear Hill and from personal observation judge of his loyalty to the national ticket. Mr. Hill's speech was full of fire and enthusiasm and even Mr. Hill's friends were surprised at the warmth of his allusions to their ex-president. His only reference to the covert charge that he was not loyal was indirect. It was a scathing denunciation of any man in high position in his party who would not lend his strongest energies to the election of his party nominee in the present great contest. It was so clearly a repudiation of his own defamers that the great audience responded to it with tumultuous cheering.

Later on he reviewed the situation and said that all the country was looking to New York.

COUNTERFEIT $2 BILL. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The secret service division has discovered a counterfeit of the new issue of the $2 silver certificate check 2,254, W. S. Rosecrans register, James Hyatt treasurer. The most marked difference between this note and the genuine and a difference which will result in the detection of the counterfeit at a glance is that the upper loop of the "J" in James in the signature of "James W. Hyatt" points directly between the D. C. after Washington in the genuine while in the counterfeit it is about one-eighth of an inch to the left of the C and immediately under the letter D.

Ed Oliver, proprietor of the grain elevator at Wetzel, Ill., was caught in a belt and drawn into a shaft and killed.

CHOKED WITH GRAIN.

Enormous Shipments Put Railways to Considerable Stress.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 26.—The enormous shipments of grain from the various western purchasing points to the eastern seaboard have resulted in serious blockades all along the lines. First, the western receiving stations, Kansas City, Omaha and other cities, complained of inability to properly handle the business offered, and now the eastern cities have thrown up their hands and cried "enough."

About two weeks ago Chicago became so badly choked up with grain that western roads were unable for a time to get any grain into the Lake city, thus further hampering them in the attempt to dispose of the flood of wheat. From Chicago the blockade has rapidly extended to the eastern lake and rail points until now all are seriously embarrassed.

Advices from New York state that the storage capacity in that city is nearly used up with slight export demand to relieve the glut. The blockade has gradually increased until it has reached the transshipping points on Lake Erie. The Anchor line of steamers has given notice that it will receive no more grain at Erie for the present. At Buffalo the railroads and Erie canal boatmen are running a race in advancing their rates to New York. The transportation is controlled by the trunk lines, which are only taking enough grain to fill out the cargoes of their own steamers. The wild boats are no longer called for and their agents find it extremely difficult to charter them at all.

MURDEROUS ATTACKS.

Assaults on Non-Union Men Continue at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 26.—Another murderous assault made by strikers on non-union men employed by the Carnegie Lawrenceville mills is reported. For the past two weeks hardly a day has passed that one or more of the men at work in the Carnegie mills have not been attacked by strikers or their sympathizers. The latest victim is Joseph McCloskey, a helper on the rolls at the Twenty-ninth street mill. McCloskey had heard of the many assaults and he was on his guard. He was going home at 2 o'clock in the morning when two men attacked him. McCloskey quickly drew his revolver and fired three shots at his assailants, who turned and fled.

Last night Charles Mitchell, a workman, in passing along Eighth avenue on his way to work, was set upon by a party of men and probably fatally injured. He was knocked down, beaten and abused and his skull fractured. He managed to reach the mill and now lies in the company hospital in a precarious condition. A man named John Gilder, who was with Mitchell at the time, was also severely beaten, but escaped with less serious injuries.

A boarding house at the corner of Fourth avenue and McClure streets, where the colored non-unionists lodge, was also attacked and every window in the front of the house broken.

NEW NAME WANTED.

Col. Bullene Thinks America Should Be Changed to Columbia.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—This country is not likely to be called Columbia. A move in this direction was made in the meeting of the world's fair commission when Commissioner Bullene, of Missouri, presented a resolution requesting congress to take the necessary steps to secure the change of name from America to Columbia.

The mover of the resolution made a clever speech in its support, deriding the claims of Vespucci to the credit of discovering the continent and demanding that Columbus receive the honor of giving his name to this country. Commissioner Cochrane, of Texas, made a strong, though possibly somewhat spread-eagle speech against taking away the proud privilege of calling one's self an American citizen and without further debate the resolution was laid on the table, 43 to 7.

Adjourned Out of Respect.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The death of Mrs. Harrison cast a shadow of sorrow over the board of lady managers of the world's fair and that body, after acting upon memorials to deceased members, adjourned for the forenoon as a mark of respect to the memory of the late mistress of the White house. Mrs. Palmer appointed Mesdames Meredith, Burleigh and Ryland a committee to prepare resolutions of condolence with President Harrison, and Mesdames Salisbury and Williams a committee to express the board's sympathy for Mrs. Russell Harrison, who is one of the vice presidents of the board of lady managers.

A Burglar Broke Jail.

BURLINGTON, Kan., Oct. 26.—Last evening about 7 o'clock John Howard, who was confined in the county jail here for burglary, broke out and escaped. Fifty dollars reward is offered by Sheriff L. H. Scott for his arrest. Howard is about 5 feet 10 inches tall, heavy built and weighs 170 pounds; has dark hair, sandy mustache and wore dark clothes with black sateen shirt, congress shoes and black derby hat.

Taken By the Baron.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The marriage of Baron Von Biedenfeld and Miss Ora Cummings, niece of Columbus R. Cummings, ex-president of the Chicago gas trust, was celebrated at 1 o'clock yesterday at the home of the bride's uncle on Indiana avenue, only the family and a few friends being present.

McKinley, of Ohio; Gov. Flower, of New York; Gen. R. A. Alger, of Detroit; A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia; T. W. Palmer, of Detroit; J. S. Clarkson and Senator Hise.

OTHER CONDOLENCES. CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Cardinal Gibbons early this morning sent the following message:

To President Harrison: The pope through Cardinal Rampolla sends you his heartfelt condolence in your present affliction.

CARDINAL GIBBONS. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 26.—At a special meeting of the executive council to-day, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, By the executive council in sorrowful session assembled—That our profound sympathy be tendered to Benjamin Harrison in the great bereavement that has come to him in the death of the beloved wife, whose life was an example of undivided devotion to husband, family, home and duty, and we assure him that the whole people of this state join in this expression of sympathy.

LYMAN U. HUMPHREY, Governor. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—While Tammany was in session yesterday afternoon a premature announcement of Mrs. Harrison's death was received. Resolutions of profound sympathy were at once adopted and the meeting adjourned.

To-day the stock exchange passed resolutions of sympathy for President Harrison in his bereavement.

HOT TIMES IN ALABAMA.

Rotten Egg Throwers Arrested by United States Deputy Marshals.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 26.—The political cauldron was never sizzling so much or boiling so intensely in Alabama as now. Saturday was a red hot day in south and southeast Alabama and echoes of the day are still resounding throughout the state.

The rotten egg incident, in which Capt. Kolb, candidate for governor, and Maj. S. S. Booth, candidate for elector on the fusion ticket, were prevented from speaking at Gordon, has culminated in a new political sensation.

Capt. Kolb returned to Montgomery much angered and outraged and swore out a warrant against certain parties at Gordon, before the United States commissioner, under the federal statute, section 5520, which provides that any person who engages in a conspiracy to prevent the support or advocacy, in a legal manner, toward or in favor of any candidate for congress or elector by any legal manner or by injury to any citizen, in person or in property, on account of such support or advocacy, can be punished by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000 and imprisoned also with or without hard labor.

The warrants were served by six deputy marshals, and a telegram to Marshal Walker says the deputies with their prisoners expect to arrive in this city to-day. Gordon is a little town in Henry county in Southeast Alabama, and is near the lines of Georgia and Florida. It is feared here that an effort will be made by a mob from the two adjoining states to release the prisoners, which may result in a fatal ending.

A BROKEN RAIL. Two Trainmen Killed and Passengers Injured in Missouri.

PHILLIPSBURG, Mo., Oct. 26.—The westbound passenger train on the "Frisco" line was wrecked a mile east of here early this morning, the baggage car, smoker and two chair cars being turned over. Baggageman Al Dickerson, of Springfield, and News Agent Floyd Harwood, of Marshallfield were killed and fourteen passengers were more or less injured, but none of them seriously. A broken rail is supposed to have been the cause of the accident. The wounded were taken to Conway, where those that required it were treated.

The American Secular Union. CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Delegates representing every section of the country are attending the sixteenth annual congress of the American Secular Union. The organization has for its main object the opposing of any movement toward the union of church and state and to preserve a purely secular government.

At a meeting last night Mr. John W. Tindall spoke on "Sunday Newspapers." He took the stand that the Sunday newspaper was the universal educator and that it was of much more importance than the church.

No Live Cattle Importations.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A deputation from Deptford to-day waited on the president of the board of agriculture, urging him to repeal the prohibition against the importation of live cattle. The president replied that through the operation of the prohibition England was almost the only European country free from foot and mouth disease and he was therefore compelled to refuse.

MEXICAN INDIANS.

Considerable Trouble Over the Deportation of a Saint.

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., Oct. 26.—A courier has arrived here from Salaviripa, a small village in the heart of the Sierra Madre mountains, two days' travel west of here, bringing a message to the commander of the garrison from Gen. Sixt. Marquese, the commander of the federal troops in the state of Chihuahua, who left here about ten days ago with 500 infantry troops belonging to the Ninth battalion, to quell a disturbance among the Yaqui Indians near Salaviripa. The message from Gen. Marquese called for reinforcements, stating that several hundred of the Indians are on the war-path and are massacring the unprotected settlers whenever a meeting occurs. He found his 500 men insufficient to cope with the daring and desperate savages, and in an engagement with a band of them last Thursday near Salaviripa the government troops were repulsed with a loss of ten men. The Yaqui Indians have been restless and discontented ever since their patrol saint, Teresa Urrea, was exiled from them and Mexico by order of the government, and it is believed here that it will take a large force of soldiers to bring them into subjection again. A few members of the tribe are peaceable and industrious and have cultivated many of the productive valleys of the mountain.
